Registered Dietitian Nutritionists

Optimizing Health through Food and Nutrition

Registered dietitian nutritionists (RDNs) are nutrition and dietetics professionals who translate the science of nutrition into practical solutions for healthy living. Working in a number of practice settings, RDNs advance the nutritional status of their patients and clients.

Expertise

RDNs receive extensive training that combines academic preparation with hands-on, practical patient experience. They must complete a minimum of a bachelor’s degree, participate in an accredited practice program involving direct patient interaction, and pass a national registration exam. RDNs are also required to complete continuing professional education to maintain their credential. In addition:

- Over half of RDNs hold a graduate degree (52% Master’s and 4% Doctoral)
- 24% of RDNs indicated holding one or more specialty certifications

Medical Nutrition Therapy (MNT) works. Registered Dietitian Nutritionists (RDNs) and other nutrition professionals, know that providing safe, timely, and effective nutrition care is essential to not only treating and managing many chronic disease and conditions, but it is also a crucial component of preventative care.

Improved health outcomes using medical nutrition therapy (MNT) have been published in dyslipidemia, adult weight management, celiac disease, cystic fibrosis, and chronic kidney disease.
