

2026-2027 Member Interest Groups

#67 Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPI)

$10 | $10 | $5

Members are nutrition practitioners of Asian American, Pacific Islander or other Asian communities or those interested in learning more about nutrition unique to these cultures. The AAPI MIG is committed to growing the Asian American presence and voice in the dietetics community and sharing our valuable stories and experiences to support our heritages.

#61 Cultures of Gender and Age (COGA)

$15 | $7.50 | $7.50

COGA exists to promote inclusive connections and the exchange of diverse perspectives across gender identities, age group, and career stages.

#69 Disabilities in Nutrition and Dietetics (Disabilities)

$20 | $5 | $5

Disabilities MIG is a community that connects Academy members who identify as having a disability, work with individuals with disabilities, educate learners with disabilities or have an interest in disability-related issues in nutrition and dietetics.

#68 Global Member Interest Group (GMIG)

$25 | $20 | $20

Global MIG connects nutrition and dietetics professionals advancing global nutrition, health equity, and sustainable food systems. GMIG offers education, webinars, resources, and networking while fostering humanitarian and international collaboration, partnerships, and experiential learning opportunities.

#60 Indians in Nutrition and Dietetics (IND)

$20 | $10 | $10

Indian MIG brings together nutrition and dietetics practitioners and students of Asian Indian origin, along with professionals and students interested in learning more about Indian culture, food, and nutrition.

#01 Latinos and Hispanics in Dietetics and Nutrition (LAHIDAN)

$30 | $20 | $15

Members foster the development and improvement of food, nutrition, and health care for the Hispanic/Latino population.

#04 National Organization of Blacks in Dietetics and Nutrition (NOBIDAN)

$30 | $15 | $10

NOBIDAN is a global professional community of dietetics and nutrition practitioners of African-American descent and other interested practitioners and students. We advance leadership, professional growth, and culturally relevant nutrition while promoting optimal health and well-being, addressing health disparities, and advancing equitable access to healthy food and quality care.

#62 Religion MIG (RMIG)

$10 | $10 | $5

Religion MIG's members bring together nutrition professionals of diverse faiths to lead efforts for optimizing health and well-being through food and nutrition and accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food, nutrition and religion.